

Kenny Scharf

Defining the modern parameters of pop surrealism is no easy task, but Kenny Scharf is one of a select group of painters, which includes such deceased contemporaries as Basquiat, Warhol and Haring, who have transformed the state of modern art with kinetic work that is constantly evolving. While Scharf has found mass-media acceptance through custom fabric patterns, Absolut Vodka ads and Swatch watches, his work nonetheless often draws the attention of the art world's critical eye when his imagery dips too far into the realm of ambiguity. Contact the Tony Shafrazi Gallery in New York at 212 274 9300.

lic, oil and enamel on canvas with mixed media frame, 104" x 84", 1996.