

The Arts

The New York Times

Footlights

Hindsight

The work of artists like Georg Baselitz, Jean-Michel Basquiat, Keith Haring, Anselm Kiefer, Sigmar Polke, Susan Rothenberg and Julian Schnabel goes on view on Saturday in Miami in a show about the role of painting in the 1980's. Exploring the decade from the perspective of the New York art world as represented in nearly 50 works by 25 artists, "Mythic Proportions: Painting in the 1980's" continues through May 13 at the Museum of Contemporary Art.